MBBS (HK), MD, DSc., FRCP (LOND)
FRCR (RD), FRCR (RT), FRCRA, FACR, FHKCR
HON. CLINICAL PROFESSOR IN CLINICAL ONCOLOGY,
THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG

Prof. John Ho Hung Chiu graduated from University of Hong Kong in 1940, after which he served in the army in China during the Pacific War. After the war he was in charge of the Lai Chi Kok Infectious Disease Hospital till 1946, then he pursued his career in the field of radiology. He obtained the MRCP in 1947 and was elected Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in 1963. Prof. Ho underwent training in radiology in UK in the 50's, and he was amongst the few radiologists who obtained the double qualifications in both diagnostic and therapeutic radiology conferred by the Royal College of Radiologists.

Prof. Ho founded the Institute of Radiology & Oncology (IRO) in 1950 and had been the Consultant in-charge of the entire radiology service in Hong Kong Government, both diagnostic and therapeutic, until his retirement in 1986. Prof. Ho also founded the Hong Kong Anti-Cancer Society in 1963 and established the Nam Long Hospital which was the first hospital to provide palliative care and hospice service in Hong Kong. Because of his immense achievement, he was affectionately known as "Emperor Ho".

Prof. Ho's academic achievements were immense. He was internationally renowned for his work on the etiology, staging and radiotherapy of nasopharyngeal cancer. He delivered the 32nd Skinner Lecture to the Royal College of Radiologists in 1967; has been awarded the First Patrick Manson Gold Medal for his MD thesis on nasopharyngeal carcinoma in 1974; delivered the 6th Digby Memorial lecture in 1974; delivered the 1st del Regato Foundation Lecture in 1977; delivered the 5th Annual Lecture to the Gilbert H. Fletcher Society in 1980; conferred by Queen Elizabeth II the CBE in 1985; awarded a Certificate of Appreciation by the UICC in 1990; delivered the first Werner Henle's Memorial Lecture in 1996. He was the author of numerous textbooks and had published more than 150 original papers in most of the referred journals. He was also elected Honorary Fellow of the American and Canadian Colleges of Radiology.

Anne G. Osborn, M.D., is University Distinguished Professor and Professor of Radiology at the University of Utah School of Medicine. She holds the William H. and Patricia W. Child Presidential Endowed Chair in Radiology at the University of Utah.

Dr. Osborn received her B.A. and M.D. from Stanford University. She joined the faculty at the University of Utah School of Medicine in 1974, and has since become an internationally-acclaimed teacher and lecturer and is regarded as one of the world's most prominent neuroradiologists. She is the author of several texts that are considered the definitive references in her field.

Dr. Osborn was cited as one of the "20 Most Influential" people in radiology by Diagnostic Imaging magazine in its November, 2002 issue, and was also subsequently profiled in the widely-read trade publication as one of four innovative educators inspiring a generation of radiologists to excel in research, clinical skill, and leadership.

Dr. Osborn has published over 20 books and more than 120 scientific articles. She is editor in chief of the Yearbook of Diagnostic Radiology. She has given over 110 invited lectures all over the world and has served as Visiting Professor at many of the world's premier medical institutions including Harvard, Stanford, and Johns Hopkins Universities and the Karolinska Institute in Stockholm, Sweden.

Dr. Osborn has delivered many named lectures and received numerous awards, including Honorary Membership in a number of international radiology professional societies, the Marie Curie Award from the American Association of Women in Radiology, the 2002 Beclere medal from the International Society of Radiology, the 2003 gold medal from the American Society of Neuroradiology, gold medal from RSNA in 2006, gold medal of the Asian-Oceanian Congress of Radiology in 2006.

Dr. Osborn was the first woman elected President of the American Society of Neuroradiology. She has served as First Vice-President of the Radiological Society of North America and most recently completed a two-year term as Chair of the Board of Trustees of the RSNA's Research and Education Foundation.
