PRESIDENT'S JOTTING

Though it may be a bit late, may I wish all of you a successful and healthy year of the RAT.

I am writing this just after the budget proposal for the year 2008-2009 by our Financial Secretary. Among the many areas of budget allocations, I particularly welcome the establishment of a Research Endowment Fund for academic research for tertiary institution and the increase in 800 extra research postgraduate posts. He mentioned that diversified research and development activities were essential to sustain economic growth and enhanced competitiveness. Hopefully, a good number of these posts will be recruited for medical researches. We are aware that there have been increasing difficulties in performing clinical research in Hong Kong, not to mention basic medical researches. The lack of resources for medical and clinical researches will not only halt scientific development in Hong Kong but it certainly will leave us in a state that we can hardly tackle the medical and health problems especially relate to this part of the world. In the long term, this will affect the standard and quality of our medical services. Our memory is still fresh from the urgent need to search for the culprit of SARS and the timely discovery of SARS virus by our diligent research workers. In our recent council meeting, the Editor-in-chief of HKCR Journal has revealed the difficulties in getting original research papers. In spite of many proposals by members to boost submission, we all know that in Hong Kong, the primary source is limited. I hope this proposal from our Financial Secretary will bring to light the importance of sustaining academic research and to boost our quest for Hong Kong to be a strong and leading center for academic and medical research.

The recent cause celebre of Internet dissemination of personal matter and data in the entertainment sector and the numerous international incidents involving large amount of stolen or lost personal data in past year may lead many of our professionals to relate to how to manage and to protect our patient data in this electronic era. One probably needs to consider how we should position ourselves, especially as the Hong Kong SAR Government is developing a workable electronic health record (eHR) for the population. Under this project, three working groups have been set up, namely, on Standard & Technology, on Legal & Privacy and on Institutional Arrangement. We anticipate that an eHR data standard for Hong Kong will be set up by 2008-2009. For those who work in the public sector like Hospital Authority, there is a dedicated section to tackle patient's record management, including: data uploading, updating, integrity, retrieval and the security. For electronic format of image transmission, the public system is evolving well and is the first ever-largest electronic patient record for a population. For those in private hospitals, I understand that some hospitals have in place comprehensive systems for digital communications within the hospital. But what about their communication with relevant parties outside the hospital? And what about those in private practice? What about the communications and transfer of records between doctors and between doctors with the hospitals? How to balance free flow of patient information sharing to support collaboration of patient care between different healthcare sectors and yet secure patient data confidentiality and information technology security.

For our specialties and for individual practitioner, how shall we follow the trend of digital communication? What about ownership of patient record? And for radiology, radiological image transmission, unlike text, entails a heavy requirement on the network. And how do we want our participation in managing our patients and communicating with our colleagues in all sectors to be done? It is the time to participate and to give our opinion. Otherwise, in the course of development for a general electronic patient record for communication with the public across all sectors, many of important information like radiological images will not be included in the way we wish. I think we should be involved in relevant working groups. We and the College should also be mindful of the development of the eHR and give our inputs whenever appropriate. We all hope that eventually, there will be a comprehensive electronic record for communication and for the satisfactory and efficient management of our patients.

The College has recently completed the accreditation of training centers in Radiology and a complete revision of our training regulations. The College has also reinforced the communication channels between the College/Trainers /trainees with new guidelines to the training heads of the training centers. We must thank those involved especially our Education Committee. It is important that we need to keep abreast of the fast development in our specialties and to update our training curriculum accordingly.

Miss Diane Lee, the College's Executive Officer will leave the College at the end of this March after 8 years of dedicated service. She has contributed immensely to our College activities. She has been the key contact of all College's important activities and our College members and the staff of our sister Colleges all know her well. Miss Lee will surely be missed but may I on behalf of the College thank her for her excellent services and wish her good health and every success in her new endeavors.

MESSAGE FROM CME/CPD SUBCOMMITTEE

Principles and Guidelines on Continuing Medical Education (CME) and Continuous Professional Development (CPD) of Hong Kong College of Radiologists (2008-2010)

I am pleased to inform you that the new College's CME/CPD Principles and Guidelines for the 2008-2010 CME/CPD cycle have been implemented from 1 January 2008. The guidelines have been revised to incorporate the new CME/CPD arrangement of requiring minimum of 15 CME/CPD points for active participation in a cycle.

Attention is particularly drawn to the new arrangement of CME/CPD points requirements and categorization of the CME/CPD points as stipulated in section 4.2 & 4.3 of the guidelines.

- (1) Audience participation as an attendee in FCAA would fall into the Passive Category. (Clause 4.2.3)
- (2) CME/CPD activities other than audience participation as an attendee in FCAA would be classified as Active Category. (Clause 4.2.4)
- (3) Those have already scored points from Active participation could not score additional points from Passive participation. (Clause 4.2.5)
- (4) Starting from 1 January 2008, no more than 75 points can be awarded for passive participation in a cycle. The minimum of 15 (Active) CME/CPD points is required. (Clause 4.3.4)

To facilitate our Fellows to accrue the active CME/CPD points, a series of active CME/CPD activities have been approved, including development of new technologies or services, chairing at the FCAA /mortality & morbidity meetings /clinico-radiological conferences /grand rounds in training units / peer-reviewed meetings, editing/referring publications, grant assessing and local/overseas hands-on clinical attachment. The Summary of Approved Active CME/CPD Activities and Procedures of CME/CPD Accreditation are specified in the Appendix A and Appendix B of the guidelines respectively. Please refer to Section 4.5 of guidelines for the accreditation details.

Furthermore, 4 sets of application forms were newly designed for different purpose of activities.

- (1) Application form for Local/Overseas Educational Activities
- (2) Application form for Publication, Editing /Refereeing Publications & Self Study

- (3) Application form for Quality Assurance and Audit Activities, Research Protocols & Postgraduate Qualification
- (4) Application form for Grant Assessing, Local /Overseas Hands-on Clinical Attachment & Development of New Technologies or Services

Application for particular activities should be submitted to the CME/CPD Subcommittee prior to the dates of the activities, please refer to Appendix B for the details of application procedures and usage of application forms. Fellows are advised to check the prevailing list of pre-approved conferences posted on the College website from time to time.

The full version of new guidelines, application procedures and applications forms have been uploaded onto our College homepage <http://www.hkcr.org>.

To facilitate the submission of summary report to HKAM, Fellows are required to submit their log sheet to College secretariat by 31 January of each cycle year. The College Council has also resolved at its meeting in May 2006 that an administrative fee for late submission of CME/CPD log sheet will be charged. You may refer to the administrative fee schedule posted on the College website for details.

Due to resources constraints, the Council has endorsed in April 2006 that once a Fellow has reached 90 CME/CPD points, the College would cease managing his/her CME/CPD credits applications. However, the attendance record captured by manual/electronic system will be kept uploading to his/her CME/CPD profile in the iCMECPD. Fellows are advised to keep their personal CME/CPD profile for their own record and for annual submission to the College.

If you have any queries on the new guidelines and regulations, please do not hesitate to convey them to the College's Secretariat at (852) 2871 8788 or email via admin@hkcr.org.

THE 15TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION OF HONG KONG COLLEGE OF RADIOLOGISTS

The 15th Anniversary Celebration of our College is indeed a great success. Hundreds of guests and members attended the highlight of the event – the Dinner. Everybody enjoyed the warm and friendly atmosphere. That night we had an ingenious yet frugal way of ribbon cutting ceremony to launch the UK Traveling Scholarship, the professional musical performance of piano and saxophone by our members, and the entertaining lucky draw with interesting prizes that required detail description. We also shared our fond memories through the DVD photo album, and were amazed at what our College had achieved as we flipped through the pages of our Commemorative Book.

Behind the success of the celebrations was the sweat of our dedicated organizing committee, especially Karen and Diane of the Secretariat. When I received the job order in the summer of 2006, I did not fully appreciate why such a celebration was necessary. Anyhow I considered it my duty and honour, and I knew I had to get the job done. An organizing committee was quickly formed and the programme was carried out including early booking of the venue almost a year ahead. As time went we began to think: No matter how successful a dinner celebration was, it would fade away in the memory soon afterwards. Hence we decided to prepare a photo album and publish a commemorative book to help to freeze the moment in everybody's mind. Meanwhile, during the discussion in the annual HKCR-RCR Meeting in the examination season, both Colleges felt that the earlier we rivet fast the friendship made between members of our colleges in youth, the better our Colleges can keep company for mutual growth. This idea fostered the establishment of an industrial partner-sponsored-scholarship administrated by our College, with the help from RCR. The scholarship targets at young Fellows to allow them to visit UK centres to build connections when they are young.

Things got smoothly early in the year but was slowed down during the summer holiday. Then the Joint Examination and the 2nd Joint ASM in October had taken up much of our energy. Fortunately we were and are still young enough and able to rush and burn the midnight oil in the entire November. We finally met the deadline, but without the participation of all our guests and members, it wouldn't be so successful. Looking back, we now are convinced that at certain stage in the development of any organization, it is necessary to pause, stock-take and record what has been achieved in the past. This helps decide the way forward.

Our job is not done yet as the College will soon form a working group to administer the Scholarship which hopefully will send our first Fellow to UK by the end of this year. I hereby wish to thank our Secretariat again for their effort and our industrial partners for their unfailing support to the College.
